

Intermediate High LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

Can narrate across all major time frames (present, past, and future) to discuss a wide range of topics.

Often communicates at the advanced level, but with some difficulty. Can easily handle conversation about familiar topics and everyday life.

Can describe with detail.
Can be understood by natives who are not accustomed to language learners.

Easily navigates conversation, listening, reading or writing in basic personal or social contexts. Can report on a current event. Can write in paragraph length.

Can resolve a spontaneous complication when communicating to meet a need, give or get information, etc.

Can create with the language. Is able to recombine learned material to create new meaning.